Firm And Unchallenged' Intention Says Minister COMMONS APPROVES SEATO AND GENEVA AGREEMENT

London, Nov. 8. The British Foreign Under-Secretary, Mr Robert Turton, told the House of Commons today it was the British Government's "firm and unchallenged" intention to protect Hongkong.

He was replying to Mr William Teeling, Conservative, who asked why Hongkong and Formosa were left out of the Manila Treaty. Mr Robert Turton said this was because the geographical limit for this treaty was Southeast Asia and the Southwest Pacific. "But let me make it absolutely clear that the Government's intention is to protect Hongkong," he said. "That remains firm and unchallenged." This declaration was greeted with cheers.

London, Nov. 8. The fact that Mr Ancurin Bevan and his left wingers did not force a vote on the Manifa Treaty in the SEATO debate showed what little support they had within the party, political observers said tonight.

> Sir Anthony Eden said the value of the settlement achieved at Geneva depended on the spirit in which it was carried out by the parties to it. So far they had displayed in general a willingness to adhere to the terms of the agreement, though there had been incidents both in Cambadia and Victnam.

In Loos, the picture was causing "some concern."

The task of the International Commission was made formidable because of poor communications and sparse populations. The Commission had settled some of its initial problems but was still confronted with the critical task of arranging for the administration of the two Northern provinces which Vietminh had overrun.

Sir Anthony Eden added: "I must make it clear that the independence and integrity of two states of Laos and Cambodia are matters of the first importance to us all." This remark was greeted with Dumbo Can' Sweep Leaves Too!

44 British Ships In China Coast Incidents

London, Nov. 8. Sir Anthony Eden, the Foreign Storetary, said today that 44 British ships had been interfered with by the Chinese Nationalists, including Nationalist irregulars since the beginning of last year.

He was replying in the House of Commons to Mr Stephen Davies (Labour), who asked how many British merchant ships had been "injercepted, plundered, shelled or strated in the China Seas by warships of Chlang Kai-shek.

The Foreign Secretary added: "There have also been a number of other instances of interference with British ships when it has not been possible to identify who was responsible. In the majority of the incidents since February, 1953, the ships have been ordered to stop and subsequently allowed

Mystery Body In Cemetery

Paris, Nov. 8. A post-mortem is being carried out here today on the body of the mysterious "man in the tomb" — a curly-haired young man of 25 who was found lying dead in a Paris cemetery vault on Friday.

Seeking clues to his identity. police doctors are analysing two boxes of pills which, with an empty brandy flask, a mutilated English passport, cigarettes, a marked map of the cemetery and some blank sheets of paper, were found with the Police are still looking for the English-speaking couple, believed to be tourists, who first reported seeing the body lying in the damp and empty De Fontenelle family vault, built in the style of a Greek temple.

This was the sort of game that drives loyal fans to elation or distraction . . . and managers to glory or succer suicide. It was a game that was as full of contradictions as a relactant female given freedom of choice in a dress-shop.

The Combined Services side had control of the game for at least 70 per cent of the first half. They had chances galore to make the result safe but a combination of bad luck and absolutely shocking finish ing - mostly the latter - saw them go in at the interval two goals down.

Hongkong Cricket Club FIVE WORLD RECORDS SET Beat The Combined Services By 20 Runs

The Hongkong Cricket Club defeated the Combined Services by a narrow margin of 20 runs in their Annual Cricket match played at Chater Road yesterday. The Services required only 43 runs for a victory with 20 minutes play left when their last man, Dowling, went in to join Major Chubb, who was then scoring consistently. Dowling made two boundaries in quick succession. Then the failing light made scoring very slow. With only seven minutes left for play Major Chubb was then clean bowled by Knight. He was top scorer for his side with 56.

BY EUROPE'S ATHLETES THIS PAST SEASON

By "RECORDER"

The past athletic season has been Europe's greatest ever. During 1954 European athletes set five world records, equalled two more and broke, in all, 10 European records.

More important than that, the balance of power in world athletics has shifted from the United States to the Old Continent which produced a better performer than America's best in 13 of 18 standard Olympic events. The Old Continent scores also so many second and third best performers for the year—that it would, for the first time, properly swamp the United States in a dual athletic match.

The Queen Heads List Of Winning Horse Owners

London, Nov. 8. Queen Elizabeth is assured of finishing top of the list of winning race-horse owners for the English flat racing season, which ends on Saturday.

It is the first time in the history of the turf that a reigning monarch has headed the list in a full season's racing.

Queen Elizabeth's, total of stakes won is £40,998. Sho won a total of 19 races with 10 of her horses. Chief contributor was her four-year-old colt Aureole, whose winnings amounted to £30,092.

Dr MacPhail, a slight unassuming figure with a pronounced Scottish accent, first came to this country in 1915, when she served as doctor with the Serb army during World War I. In 1919, she established in Belgrade, with her own money, the first hospital for children in Serbia.

The Freedom of the town of Kamenica, in Vojvodina, was given her for founding a hospital there, exactly 20 years ago. Situated on a wooded hillside overlooking the Danube, this hospital treats children with bone tuberculosis and other crippling discases.

TRADITIONAL LUNCH

The ceremony, attended Mr John Shattock. British Charge d'Affaires, Dr Svetislav Stojanovic, Professor of Orthopaedics at the University of Belgrade, and by Communist party leaders from the Volvodina, started with speeches and a traditional Serb lunch of suckling pig.

It ended seven hours inter with folk dancing by Kamenten girls in national costume.

Help came from donors in Britain, the United States, Canada, South Africa and, above all, from the "Save the Children Fund" in London.

The hospital filled such a need that during the 'twenties it find 170,000 children's names on its books.

By 1933, part of Dr MacPhail's task had been accomplished. She had trained a Yugoslav staff and the hospital was handed over to

During her slay in the country, she came to the conclusion that tuberculosis was the great scourge of Yugoslav children. "So I bought land at Kamenica and built a hospital for children with bone tuberculosis and other crippling oiseases," she explained.

HAD TO FLEE When war came to Yugoslavia in 1941, Dr MacPhail had to flee, She was caught by the Italians in southern Dalmatia and interned, but later released through Spain. Shortly before the end of the war, she returned to Yugoslavia, and was allowed, after an initial refusal.

She found the hospital had been strippel bare. There were no windows, on doors, no water pipes and no heating stoves. She had it re-equipped and stayed there until 1947. By that time, there was question of nationalising all foreign property in Yugoslavia. Communist authorities would not allow Dr MacPhail to work as she liked any longer and she decided that she could not continue. So she allowed the hospital to be
